Pharmacy Residency Programs at The Kingsbrook Jewish Medical Center

The Kingsbrook Jewish Medical Center and the Arnold & Marie Schwartz College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Long Island University, offer the following one-year ASHP-accredited pharmacy residency programs:

- PGY-1 Pharmacy Residency
- PGY-2 Critical Care Pharmacotherapy Residency
- PGY-2 Geriatric Pharmacotherapy Residency
- PGY-2 Internal Medicine Pharmacy Residency

The Department of Pharmacy is fully computerized, provides 24-hour pharmacy services, and utilizes a robotic dispensing system. The hospital has a closed-loop drug distribution and administration system. Prescribers utilize the Computerized Physician Order Entry (CPOE) system, where medication orders simultaneously interface into the Pharmacy Computer System, pharmacists validate these orders, the Pharmacy Robot dispenses medications, and nurses administer medications using barcode scanners. Computer terminals are located throughout the hospital and on medication carts. An Emergency Medicine Satellite Pharmacy and Clinical Pharmacist are responsible for medication utilization and delivery to the emergency department.

The 22-member Pharmacotherapy Team includes clinical pharmacists specializing in these settings: Critical Care, Emergency Medicine, Internal Medicine, Cardiology, Psychiatry, Geriatrics, Long Term Care, Wound Care, Infectious Diseases, Nutrition Support, Ambulatory Care, and Drug Information.
